Hanum Health Development Foundation (HHDF)

Hanum Health Development Foundation (HHDF) is a Bangladesh non-governmental organization working with the urban and rural poor of Bangladesh for the last twenty years. The mandate of the organization is to assist their stakeholder to attain sustainable social uplift and development. The Factum Illuminary (Statement of Illumination) program of HHDF is a youth engineering outreach program where young engineers and engineering students volunteer their skills under the umbrella of the foundation to provide technical solutions to resource challenged communities in the areas of water, sanitation, and renewable energy to foster sustainable development. Innovation and community empowerment through education is the modus of operating.
